

Matrimonial Accounting and Consulting Services

The experts at Wilkin & Guttenplan work with attorneys and their clients, providing them with the expertise necessary to resolve the complex financial and accounting issues associated with divorce. Our forensic divorce accounting and consulting services include:

Business Valuation

The value of a business and/or business interest can significantly impact both the distribution of assets and determination of potential support. Our experts have the specialized knowledge and experience in this area to provide an objective, accurate and credible valuation.

Lifestyle and Cash Flow Analysis

Alimony/support is a key component of most matrimonial matters. Understanding the cash flow of the parties as well as the marital standard of living is essential. Our team will carefully analyze the income and cash flow, creating an easy to understand summary that can then be used to as a basis for these critical decisions.

Mediation

The divorce process can often be a combative one. Mediation can often be the fastest and most cost-effective route to reaching a settlement. Our mediators work with the opposing parties and their counsel to help structure solutions for settlement.

Additional Services

Other services that our experts can provide include:

- Discovery of hidden income or assets
- Forensic accounting
- Investigative financial consulting services
- Tax and financial planning related to divorce
- Review of settlement agreements
- Expert reports
- Expert witness testimony
- Case information statement preparation
- Litigation support
- Reconstruct financial data and transactions