CHRISTINE G. PRONEK

Principal | CPA, MST

Christine is the Trusts & Estates Practice Leader at WilkinGuttenplan and specializes in estate, trust, gift, and income tax planning and compliance for high-net-worth and ultra-high-net-worth individuals, families, and business owners. She advises clients on a wide range of domestic and international estate matters, helping them navigate complex tax, multi-generational wealth transfer, fiduciary, and succession planning considerations. Her background includes extensive experience representing clients with sophisticated trust and estate structures, as well as coordinating with attorneys, investment advisors, and family offices.

Christine also works closely with business owners on estate and succession planning strategies, helping clients evaluate tax-efficient structures and long-term planning opportunities designed to preserve and transfer wealth across generations.

Before joining WilkinGuttenplan, Christine spent more than two decades specializing in trust, estate, and gift taxation at regional and national accounting firms. Her experience includes serving as Partner-in-Charge of the Trust and Estate Department at PKF O'Connor Davies, where she advised a broad range of clients on both domestic and international trust and estate matters.

Earlier in her career, Christine served as a Revenue Agent with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), an experience that provided a strong technical foundation in tax matters and examinations.
