

DARKO NAUMOSKI

Shareholder | CPA

Darko joined the firm in 2017, specializes in international taxation and planning strategies, and currently serves as International Commerce Group Practice Leader. His practice is primarily focused on international tax matters, including U.S. tax aspects of international business, such as foreign businesses operating in the U.S. and U.S. businesses doing work abroad.

He assists mid-market multinational clients create and implement tax structures to minimize worldwide tax, which is operationally practical. For foreign-based businesses, Darko and his team are often the first point of contact, guiding clients through the hurdles of doing business in the U.S. and providing peace of mind that their businesses are tax-compliant.

Darko also contributes to the training and development of our entry-level and advanced staff regarding international taxation concepts, practices, and procedures.

Prior to working at WilkinGuttenplan, Darko worked for a regional accounting firm providing international tax services.
